Towards Sustainability: What can we do now?

Our leaders need to make small steps in the right direction:

- Heads of schools, colleges, universities and their department;
- Business leaders, leaders of organizations;
- Leaders of towns, cities, counties, and states;
- National and international leaders.

We need to ensure that they go in the right direction.

Only if we choose the leaders who understand the challenge can we hope that eventually the future will be now.
